PROFILE

Lindsay Harpham is a professional contemporary dancer, dance educator, choreographer, adjudicator, and kinesiologist. She has had the pleasure of working with companies and organizations including Red Sky Performance, Larchaud Dance Project, Gadfly, Litz Dance, Nimii Project, Hit and Run Productions, Remai Modern, RSD Performance, and Nickelodeon.

Grateful to have toured professionally throughout Canada, the United States, Australia, and across Europe, Lindsay continues to seek opportunities that feel equally inspiring and creatively expansive. Some of her most memorable performance experiences include Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival, the Australian Joint Dance Congress, performances alongside the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, and the Innovate Film Showcase, all of which have deeply shaped her perspective as an artist.

Lindsay is also the co-founder of Wherewe Collective, an organization dedicated to creating performance and training opportunities for youth and emerging artists. Alongside her artistic career, she works at Ballet BC's Performance Clinic, where she specializes in rehabilitation and performance coaching for dancers.
